

Social and Personal

LIEUTENANT LEWIS JENNINGS, paymaster of the battleship Kansas, was one of the few American officers who were guests of their Majesties, the King and Queen of Denmark, at a dinner given by them at the Amalienborg Palace, in Copenhagen, upon the occasion of the recent visit of the Second Division of the Atlantic fleet to that country.

On the evening before the departure of the division for Sweden, paymaster Jennings was host of a small farewell dinner on board the Kansas. Among his guests at dinner were Prince Axel, of Denmark, and Baron Julien-Brockdorff.

Cherry-Glenn.
Miss Nellie Swan Glenn, daughter of the late Robert Leitch Glenn and Mrs. Glenn, was married to Kenneth Cherry, of the late Robert Leitch Cherry, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, 614 North Avenue, Barton Heights. The Rev. W. T. Hundley, of Batesburg, South Carolina, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only the immediate families and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. The parlor was prettily arranged in ferns and shaded candles and Mrs. Wythe Leitch Kinship played the Bridal Chorus, from "Lohengrin" as a processional.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kate Glenn, as maid of honor, and Arthur Seabury Cherry, acted as her brother's best man. The bride's gown was of white messaline trimmed in duchess lace and her long tulle veil was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor wore a costume of white marquisette over pink, and carried pink roses.

After a Northern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cherry will be at home at 2718 East Franklin Street.

Going to Panama.
The Baltimore Sun of yesterday morning contains the following article of interest in Richmond, where Mr. James has a number of relatives.

"Mr. and Mrs. A. Randolph James gave a luncheon yesterday at the Rensselaer. They will leave to-day for New York, and will sail to-morrow for Panama, where Mr. James is junior engineer in charge of construction of the Miraflores lock of the canal. Among their guests yesterday were Miss Katherine Knox, of Pikesville, and Lieutenant Wickham, United States Navy, of Virginia. Mrs. James was, before her marriage, Miss Julia Wickham Renshaw, of Charlottesville."

Entertained in Wytheville.
Society is very gay in Wytheville, and the past several weeks several very pretty functions have been given. Quite a number of Richmond people are spending the summer in that place, and two affairs recently given there were one of the most thoroughly enjoyable of the past week's many pleasant functions was the card party given on Friday morning by Miss Mary Preston Kent, in compliment to Misses Nellie Morton and Vera Palmer, both of Richmond, who are visiting her. Among the guests were: Mrs. William Wilkins, Miss Kate Green, Miss Virginia Gibson, Miss Ella Jackson, of Richmond; Mrs. Gossitt, of South Carolina; Mrs. Cloyd Kent, of this city; Miss Estelle Moore, Miss Eleanor Terry, Miss Mary Vaden, Mrs. Curran P. Saunders, Misses Mary and Nan Powell, Miss Lella Dew, Mrs. Julian Gravelly, Misses May and Emily McGavock, and Mrs. Page Dame, of Baltimore.

Mrs. J. Norment Powell entertained on Friday evening in honor of Miss Eleanor Terry and her guest, Miss Mary Vaden, of Richmond. After several games of cards had been played, the guests were invited to the dining room, where covers were laid for sixteen. Those present were Mrs. Cloyd Kent, of Richmond; Misses Mary and Nan Powell, Miss Ella Jackson, of Richmond; Miss Virginia Gibson, Mrs. Julian Gravelly, Miss Lella Dew, Miss Mary Preston Kent, Miss Nellie Morton, Miss Palmer, both of this city; Mrs. William Wilkins, Miss Kate Green, Miss Estelle Moore, Misses May and Emily McGavock, Miss Eleanor Terry and Miss Mary Vaden.

Summer in Virginia.

Miss Wallis Warfield will leave Saturday for The Plains, where she will spend the next two months camping with the Misses Noland in the mountains of Virginia.

Miss Anita Warfield will go with her father, Adjutant-General Henry M. Warfield, to camp in Frederick Md. Visiting Relatives.
Mrs. W. T. Pettway and children and Mrs. T. H. Siegfried left yesterday for a visit to their sister, Mrs. R. J. Meigs, at the latter's home in Lanserch, Pa. Mrs. Pettway and children and Mrs. Siegfried will also go to Atlantic City, where they will spend some time before returning to this city. They were accompanied by Mrs. George E. Roberts on their visit to Pennsylvania.

At the Conference.
The ninth conference of the Missionary Educational Movement, formerly known as the Young People's Missionary Movement, adjourned Sunday, July 9, after a meeting held in Asheville, N. C. This conference is interdenominational and is largely and enthusiastically attended by all evangelist denominations. The purpose of the organization is to secure volunteers for the foreign field and to train leaders for the churches at home. The Normal and Collegiate Institute, where the meeting took place, is situated in Asheville, on the mountain top, and it is hoped that the next meeting, which will be held on June 28, 1912, will take place in the home of the conference, in the Black Mountains of North Carolina.

Richmond was represented this year by Dr. Ray and Dr. Merritt, representing their denominations; the East Hanover Presbyterian Union by Mrs. Theobald Brown, the Church of the Covenant by Miss Annie Link, and Grace Street Presbyterian by Miss Mary C. Gordon and Miss Blanche Williams.

Williamson-Wissler.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Harrisonburg, Va., July 12.—To-night at 7 o'clock, near Mount Jackson, a wedding that brought about the union of two prominent Virginia families was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wissler, when their daughter, Miss Mary Ad. Wissler, became the bride of Dr. Thomas Valentine Williamson, a young surgeon of Norfolk, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Gardner Williamson. The wedding was a simple one, and was attended by only a few intimate friends of the young couple.

Mrs. J. Edwin Triplett, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. J. L. Wissler, Mr. Miss Virginia Williamson, Mrs. Mary Keene Abbott and Miss Elizabeth Burr.

Faxton G. Williamson, brother of the groom, was best man. The other attendants were: John L. Wissler, Jr., J. Edwin Triplett, Ripley Walker, R. M. Allen.

The ceremony was performed on the magnificent lawn of the Wissler home. Under an arch of evergreen and flowers the couple stood while Rev. John Magill, D. D., the Episcopal rector, spoke the words that made them man and wife. The house and parlor were decorated with honeysuckle, daisies and cut flowers.

Professor J. A. Ide, of Winchester, presided at the piano, and Miss Louise Koontz, of Newport News, sang "I Promise You," the words of which were written by John Bell, of the University of Virginia. Lohengrin's Chorus and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were rendered by Professor Ide.

After a bridal trip, Dr. and Mrs. Williamson will be at home in Norfolk.

MINISTER FALLS DEAD IN STREET
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., July 12.—Boyd, sixty-five years old, a licensed minister in the Unity Brethren Church, fell dead on the corner of Eighth Street and Jamison Avenue, S. E., to-day. Mr. Boyd had arranged to go to Winchester to visit relatives and was standing waiting for a street car to go to the passenger station. Persons nearby rushed to him when he fell, but death was instantaneous.

Coroner R. Gordon Simmons was called, and on examination found that Mr. Boyd's death was due to heart trouble, he having been a sufferer from this cause for some time.

Mr. Boyd was employed in the Norfolk and Western shops for a number of years, being a blacksmith by trade. He supplied various United Brethren Churches in this vicinity for several years. His wife died about a year ago. Mr. Boyd was a brother of the late Rev. James H. Boyd.

ELKS' HOME STAYS AT BEDFORD CITY

Every Member Taxed to Raise $250,000 to Make Needed Improvements.

PREPARING FOR BIG PARADE
Day Will Be One of Surprises. Richmond Delegation Keeps Plans Secret.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 12.—A per capita tax of 50 cents will be levied on every member of the order of Elks to raise the $250,000 needed for the improvement of the new national Elks' Home at Bedford City, Va., according to action taken by the grand lodge this afternoon. A commission, consisting of Grand Exalted Ruler J. P. Sullivan, Past Grand Exalted Ruler August Hermann, the board of trustees and three additional members, will have charge of the project, with full power to act.

The Newport, R. I. Lodge, No. 161, captured the $500 prize in the competitive drill to-day.

Charles A. Hasbary, of Dallas, Tex., defeated candidate for grand exalted ruler, announced this afternoon that he would run for office at Portland, Ore., next year.

The Elks to-night are preparing for the big parade to-morrow along Atlantic Avenue, the main thoroughfare of the city. The procession will get under way at 2 o'clock, and will be in command of Grand Esquire James R. Nicholson, of Boston, who has divided the Elks into ten divisions.

C. L. Applegate, of Salt Lake, to-day was elected grand trustee on the third ballot.

Preparing for Parade.
The Richmond delegation spent a busy day preparing for the monster parade, which will be the greatest procession ever marched through city streets. Like most of the delegates, the Richmond Elks are keeping secret their precise plans, in order that to-morrow may be a day of surprises.

All are optimistic regarding their chances of landing the prizes.

The absence of the hot, boiling sun to-day made bathing extremely popular, and a large percentage of the delegation took to the surf. An arrangement was made this morning for as many of the Richmond delegation as could go into the water together.

As a result, twenty Richmond Elks assembled in bathing suits between Steel and Steeplechase piers, and made merry for two hours. Pyramids were tied, some of which were successful, most of which resulted in a heap of tangled arms and legs belonging to mature men harking back to their boyhood days.

About midnight last night a crowd of Richmond brothers assembled at a hotel and did there what they did the night before. When the hour arrived to go home, the crowd marched up the boardwalk to the nearest rolling chair establishment and formed a parade. All of the men carried their coats, as do most of the visitors, as a result of the now famous slogan: "Bill, take off your coat."

RICHMOND ELKS HIGHLY ELATED
News That National Home Is to Stay in Virginia Gratifying to Members.

The action yesterday of the Grand Lodge of Elks, now in session at Atlantic City, in voting to permanently retain the national home at Bedford City was welcome news to all members of the order in this State. The entire Virginia delegation, headed by members of Richmond Lodge, went to the meeting with the avowed purpose of using their utmost influence to "keep the home in Virginia."

For a long while the Grand Lodge has been considering the advisability of changing the location of the home, and the outlook was that Virginia would be deserted. But the allied strength of the State delegation brought about a change of sentiment in this direction and won a telling victory.

The Grand Lodge also voted to build a new home, and this will cost a quarter of a million dollars. The money will be raised by assessing every member of the E. P. O. E. 50 cents.

A telegram yesterday from Colonel B. O. James announcing that Bedford City had won was received with the utmost enthusiasm in Richmond.

ASHLAND NEWS NOTES
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Ashland, Va., July 12.—A quiet wedding took place at St. James' Baptist Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Miss Frances Taylor became the bride of Gordon Fleming, Rev. E. L. Goodwin performed the ceremony and Miss Caroline Holliday played the wedding marches. The bride, who entered with Henry Tyler, wore a traveling suit of blue and carried Bride's roses.

Miss Marion Ware, the maid of honor, wore a pretty gown of pink mull and carried the bride's train. Dr. Thomas Taylor, of Fluvanna county, was best man, and the ushers were Boyd and Henry Tyler. Thomas Gary, Edgar Terrell, after an extended trip Mr. and Mrs. Fleming will live in Amelia county.

ELOPE TO ROCKVILLE.
E. E. King and Miss Chisholm Married on Sunday in Maryland.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., July 12.—News of the elopement of E. E. King and Miss Ethel Chisholm to Rockville, Md., where they were married last Sunday afternoon, leaked out to-day. Mr. King went to Rockville on Friday last and procured a license. Returning to this city, he called at the bride's home Sunday morning, and the couple started off ostensibly for church. Instead they took the local Chesapeake and Ohio train for Gordonsville, where they awaited the fast train for Washington, going from thence to Rockville, where they were united at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The groom is a grandson of R. N. Burgess, of this city.

Quorum Fails to Attend.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Blacksburg, Va., July 12.—Illness in the families of three members of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute board of visitors prevented their being a quorum at the meeting here to-day, and another will be held later in the month.

Rosewell Page, of Hanover, recently appointed a member of the board, was among those present to-day.

PLANT IS TURNED OVER TO COMPANY
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bristol, Va., July 12.—The Government turned over to E. G. Gouge & Co. to-day the big corn whiskey distillery and 10,000 gallons of spirits, seized a week ago. This followed Judge H. C. McDowell's decision allowing the company to rebound. The plant will resume operations to-morrow. The most serious charge against the proprietor was that of removing whiskey from the plant on which the Federal tax had not been paid.

It developed to-day that prominent among the men who are opposing the granting of a saloon license to the new Hotel Bristol are Dr. J. T. Henderson, president of the Virginia Inter-mountain College, Dr. W. S. Neighbors, president of Sullins College, John N. Huntsman and J. D. Faucette, wholesale merchants. The hearing of the case was postponed to-day to allow all parties time to get witnesses.

CHAIRMAN GETS FORMAL REQUEST

State Committee Asked by Straightouts to Investigate Norfolk Primary.

Formal request for an investigation of alleged frauds in the recent primary in Norfolk county was presented to State Chairman J. Taylor Elyson by a committee of the "Straightouts" yesterday, the committee being represented by the following counsel: J. L. Heard, H. Laurence Brooks, Russell L. Brantford, James D. Martin and Braden Vandeverter. The papers and record presented are quite voluminous, and Mr. Elyson informed the committee that he would give an answer as soon as he had had an opportunity of reviewing the papers—probably in the next three or four days.

The committee, through counsel, asks the State chairman to call a meeting of the State Committee at the earliest practicable date, suggesting any date after July 20. It is requested that the contest of the recent primary be transferred directly from the jurisdiction of the Norfolk County Committee, which is charged, is affiliated in one way or another with the fusion wing of the party, to the State Committee for final hearing. Even should the county committee not agree to such reference of the whole controversy to the State Committee, the petition asks Mr. Elyson, because of the unusual conditions alleged to exist, to transfer the hearing notwithstanding. In either event, therefore, whether the Norfolk County Committee agrees or not—the contestants ask a hearing directly before the governing body of Democracy in the State.

Tuesday, July 25, is suggested as a convenient date for all parties.

Mr. Elyson assured the delegation that he will give the papers presented as prompt attention as his engagements would permit.

STREET IMPROVEMENT WORK SOON WILL BE STARTED
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., July 12.—Final negotiations for the purchase of Norton's street and sewerage have been concluded with Henry Nuyven & Co. of Chicago, and bids for the construction work will be received by Mayor Roberts on Monday afternoon, July 24. The sum of $20,000 is to be spent on the construction of a sewer system, and the same amount on the improvement of streets, making $40,000 in all. The original bond issue voted was $70,000, but it is believed that $40,000 will meet the needs, and the new Town Hall, proposed in the original issue, and to cost $15,000, will be postponed for a time.

It is believed by members of the Town Council that the construction work will cost less just at this time, owing to the building of gas roads now underway, and the presence of many contractors in Wise county.

Ambassador Dudley Ill.
Rio Janeiro, July 12.—Irving B. Dudley, the American ambassador to Brazil, is seriously ill from an attack of heart trouble.

Schroth-Pennet.
Alexandria, Va., July 12.—The marriage of Miss Virginia Elizabeth Schroth, of this city, and Edward James Schroth, of Washington, took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Rev. Father L. F. Kelly officiating. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Constant Pennet.

Whitmer-Beasley.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., July 12.—Ira Whitmer, formerly of Harrisonburg, and Miss Virginia Beasley, of this city, were married at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. W. L. Beasley, in Belmont. Rev. H. E. Johnson, D. D., of Suffolk, officiating. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitmer left for the groom's home at Harrisonburg.

Death of William Rodde.
Paris, July 12.—William Rodde, aged fifty-four years, died at a hotel here to-day of nephritis. He was born at Cold Spring, N. J., and came here recently from Royal, where he had taken the cure. The body will be taken to New York Saturday.
